
Paired observations and histories throughout. Ratios use different declared spectral norms; values above identity do not establish sensor superiority.